

Make Data Matter

The Keyrus group was founded on the belief that data matters.

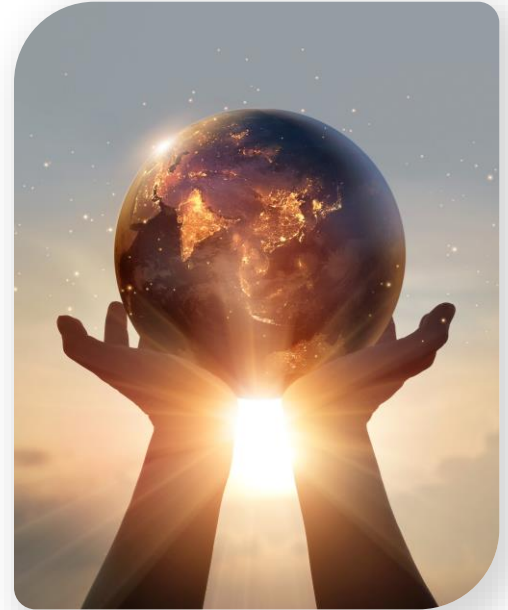

Keyrus is a global consultancy that develops data and digital solutions for performance management. We combine business and technical expertise to help your organization uncover the most value from your data.

Humanizing the Future

Data holds the answers to humanity's biggest challenges.

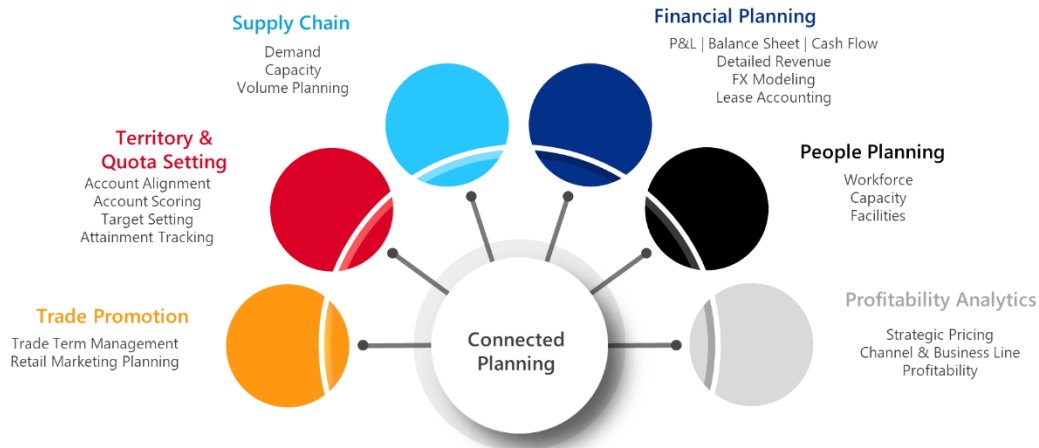

Data is humankind's most important genetic fingerprint in retracing our past, expressing our present, and predicting the future. We can use it to promote sustainable development, economic growth, and greater societal interests.

Let's smartly valorize the power of data to build a better future together.

Achieving the Collaborative Advantage

We help our clients drive change by finding innovative, new ways to connect and leverage different types of data to make better, faster decisions. We do this by bringing together people, data, and analytics on a single, connected, collaborative planning and decision-making platform: the Anaplan platform.

Inspiring & Incorporating Room for Growth

A global Anaplan partner and awarded Anaplan's AMER Regional Partner of the Year in 2021, we provide organizations like yours with the ability to ask and answer complex strategic, tactical, and operational questions in real-time.

We provide an end-to-end offering, working with clients at every stage to ensure you get the right solution for your needs. Our subject matter experts and certified team of solution architects and model builders design and implement solutions that align with your organization's complete technology landscape.

When technology is no longer a constraint, you can spend more time continuously improving how your people, data, and processes collaborate to make more-informed business decisions, faster.

Drive Positive Change

Data holds the answers to humanity's biggest challenges. It is the key driver of innovation and the foundation for solutions that enable long-term success. Your data has the power to tackle complex problems.

Make your data transformative. inspirational. human.

Keyrus has been helping clients make data matter for over 25 years. We have experts leading digital transformations using the most secure, tested technology, agile methodology, and best practices. And we are where you are, with over 3000 employees worldwide.

Let us help you reimagine digitized, connected planning to transform your organization.
